- World's Fairs
Primary source material from hundreds of fairs, including London's Great Exhibition of 1851, American fairs of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and twenty-first century EXPOs. Students, teachers and researchers can explore two centuries of innovation, entertainment and international relations through the rich history of world's fairs.
- Colonial America
The complete CO 5 Files from The National Archives, UK and a 'game changing' development for historians and researchers of early America, the Atlantic world, the Caribbean and the nascent British Empire, Colonial America enables online access to the vast archive of circa 70,000 documents of manuscript materials for the first time.
- Shakespeare in Performance: Prompt Books from the Folger Shakespeare Library
An essential resource for all scholars of Shakespearean drama, featuring rare and unique prompt books from the world-famous Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington DC. Students and scholars can research key performances of Shakespeare's plays through the prompt books of the famous actors and directors who brought the Bard's works to life.
- Frontier Life: Borderlands, Settlement and Colonial Encounters
This multi-archive collection captures the lives, experiences and colonial encounters of people living at the edges of the Anglophone world from 1650-1920. Students and scholars can search across a vast range of unique material documenting the various colonial frontiers of North America, Africa, Australia and New Zealand.
- And many more...
