

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: May 23, 2016

Worden Introduces inCharge,
an Empowering New Furniture Collection

Holland, MI -- Worden announces the introduction of inCharge, a new collection of lounge furniture that lets users take control of their environment.

inCharge furniture is fully interchangeable. Components quickly and easily reconfigure to create completely different environments. Embedded conductive power and inductive power are options that put this line on the leading edge of furniture technology. When plugged into a power source, the Power Hub provides a continuous flow of wireless conductive power from piece to piece of interconnected furniture. USB ports are built into the lounge seating and connector tables for convenient recharging of mobile phones and tablets. In addition, wireless charging through inductive power is available on connector and tablet tables.

The inCharge collection includes a wide variety of lounge seating, tables, and accessories in eye-catching fabrics and modern finishes. Innovative elements like the keyless locker cabinet offer unique storage options. The rockerDot soft stool adds a fun, light-hearted touch to any environment.

“This collection represents a new era of progressive design and technological innovation for Worden,” says Jim Weaver, CEO of The Worden Group. “We are confident that users will love the ease of reconfiguration and access to power that inCharge provides.”

Worden has a rich heritage of manufacturing high quality, beautiful wood furniture for the library and educational markets. Worden’s 66 years of experience brings superior local craftsmanship to every piece of furniture it creates, ensuring that it will stand the test of time for generations to come... whether it’s a traditional solid wood desk or a sleek lounge chair with embedded power.

Come visit us at ALA Booth 2145 to see this exciting new product line.

For more information, contact Linda Visscher at lvisscher@wordencompany.com or 616-355-3069. Visit us at www.wordencompany.com